Dear [redacted]

STAT

We have apparently been at fault in not commenting sooner upon the satellite roundups which you have initiated. It was a good idea. We are happy to get them, and reproduce them daily in the restricted report.

As prepared by [redacted] however, they are not a sufficiently finished piece of work for transmission to other offices. There are some errors, and the writing is unattractive. It requires a couple of hours daily of rewrite work at this end to put them into shape for publication.

STAT

If it is not possible, therefore, for you or [redacted] or someone in whom you have complete confidence to check them thoroughly and rewrite if necessary before transmission, they should be withheld from G-2 HUCOM and USFA and any other prospective clients until they can be turned out on a professional basis.

STAT

Sincerely,

[redacted]
Acting Chief, FBIB
